ITALY WILL DOUBLE FORCE OF SOLDIERS IN EASTERN AFRICA

Chamber of Deputies at Rome Told Ethiopian Situation Is Problem of Vast Importance—Mussolini Already Has 100,000 Troops in Colonies Bordering Abyssinia

ROME, May 7 (AP).—Italy moved to double her force of 100,000 soldiers in East Africa today as a Government official, with Benito Mussolini looking on, told the Chamber of Deputies the Ethiopian situation "is a problem of vast importance, embracing the whole European civilizing mission."

A loud roar of approval went up from the deputies. Orders for mobilization of three new divisions of fighting men, as revealed in an official communique, are expected to provide "a powerful instrument of war."

LARGE FORCE IN FIELD
The best-informed quarters said Italy's forces already in the colonies beset by troublesome incidents with the Ethiopian Government, now total approximately 100,000 men.

Colonial Under-Secretary Alessandro Lessona told the Chamber: "Italy has the right to see that aggressions such as that at Ualul and Adub (East African border incidents which strained the nationalities) are not repeated, and that obligations contained in the treaty of friendship are respected."

Four new battalions are to be constituted in Italy and two are to be composed of native troops of East Africa.

REASONS FOR ACTION
Three reasons were given for the action:
1. The notable furnishing of arms to Addis Ababa by European factories which have been definitely identified.
2. The steps of mobilization taken by the Ethiopian Government.
3. The recent address of Emperor Haile Selassie to Parliament.

PENSION FUND IS UNSTABLE

Unless Government Absorbs $600,000 Deficit Superannuation Unleash

The 3,000 civil and municipal employees throughout the province might just as well throw up their plan of superannuation unless the Government accedes to the request that it absorb the $600,000 deficit that now exists in the fund.

This was the gist of Mayor David Leeming's remarks at yesterday's meeting of the City Council, when the activities of the special committee of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities were reported upon.

Victoria's share of the deficit is $200,000, and until Hon. Dr. G. M. Weir and Hon. John Hart return from Ottawa, it will not be known whether the Government will be able to absorb the deficit, the Mayor reported to the council in connection with the committee's interview with Premier Pattullo.

The council decided to vote the necessary funds for the employment of an actuary to devise a basis of superannuation. The work will take some three months to accomplish, as the entire Provincial situation will have to be considered. The cost of this work will be $6,000. Each participant in the present system of superannuation will contribute $1, while the employer will match these contributions dollar for dollar.

Powerful Monarchist Given War Portfolio in Spanish Cabinet—Republicans Alarmed

MADRID, May 7 (CP-Havas).—With Spain's new Government preparing to go before the Cortes tomorrow, Republicans and Socialists feared tonight that Jose Maria Gil Robles, "Man of the Hour," plans to overthrow the Republic and restore the monarchy.

His ambitions were realized after months of political struggle by his selection as war minister in the new Cabinet of Premier Alejandro Lerroux. Gil Robles now is in a position, observers said, to eliminate the one outstanding obstacle to the monarchy believed sought by the agrarian populist leader—the Republican generals of the Spanish army.

The King's message read: "I have received with much pleasure your telegram informing me that my people in Canada are contributing so generously towards the King George V Silver Jubilee Cancer Fund for Canada."

"I warmly thank all those who have joined in helping this most noble and humanitarian cause, and I fervently trust that a permanent fund may be established and this further the relief of much suffering and distress."

Upton Sinclair's Candidates Fail To Extend Contest For End Poverty Plan

LOS ANGELES, May 7 (AP).—Upton Sinclair, the Socialist who turned Democrat, captured the Democratic party in California in the state election last November and had proposed to extend his conquest to the nation, apparently had met defeat in today's municipal elections here.

With more than half the precincts reported, incomplete, for the Los Angeles City Council, with eleven districts electing, Epic (end poverty) in Californian candidates led in three and there was a nip-and-tuck race in a fourth. If Epic should elect four councilmen it would have five of the fifteen votes in the City Council.

PRIME MINISTERS OF EMPIRE CONSIDER EUROPEAN AFFAIRS

Study Confused Picture of International Happenings in Conference at Downing Street—Review Whole Complicated Situation in Informal Round-Table Talk With British Statesmen

Assurance Given Regarding Naval Treaty With Japan

LONDON, May 7 (CP).—The confused picture of European affairs was again unfolded before the Prime Ministers of the Empire at No. 10 Downing Street today. As on the previous occasion a week ago Foreign Secretary Sir John Simon opened with an outline of the international situation, which was followed by general discussions.

(The Associated Press reported prospects of curbing a European arms race, and German submarine building was discussed, and that a grave view was taken of the Continental situation.)

(Havas Agency said the Empire premiers, particularly Prime Minister R. B. Bennett, of Canada, had been assured that in naval or other negotiations with Japan care would be taken not to weaken Anglo-American relations.)

INFORMAL TALK
In both Canadian and British circles, however, it is emphasized the proceedings were in the nature of an informal round-table talk, reviewing the whole situation.

Prime Minister R. B. Bennett told the Canadian Press: "I made no statement to anyone; any statement I have to make will be made in Parliament."

Another meeting will be held on Thursday, and Prime Minister Bennett is expected to start back to Canada on Friday.

Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald presided over today's meeting.

CURBING ARMAMENTS

LONDON, May 7 (AP).—The chiefs of the Dominions today discussed the prospects of curbing a European arms race, and the question of German submarine building with leaders of the British Cabinet.

It was authoritatively stated that a grave view was taken of the present European situation and possible repercussions upon the Dominions. Representatives of the Dominions enthusiastically supported Prime Minister MacDonald and Sir John Simon, Foreign Secretary, in their efforts to stabilize peace on the Continent.

Operation of Communists within British Columbia received official attention yesterday in a statement by Adam Bell, deputy minister of labor, on the heels of an announcement by Sherwood Lett, a Vancouver director of the Corbin Collieries, Limited, that Corbin mines would be shut down immediately and would stay closed.

Mr. Bell told of sincere efforts of the Provincial Department of Labor to bring together the operating company and the Corbin Mines Association, wherein the company was willing to submit the issue to arbitration under the Industrial Disputes Act, but the men's association refused.

The Corbin Mines Association, Mr. Bell stated, was affiliated with the Mine Workers' Union of Canada and with the Workers' Unity League, the last-named being a branch of the Communist Party.

Canada Accepts Membership in New Committee

Will Serve on Body Appointed by League of Nations to Study Application of Sanctions Against Unilateral Repudiation of Treaties—Makes Reservation in Sending Acceptance

OTTAWA, May 7 (CP).—Without committing itself to disciplinary action against Germany or any other nation, the Government of Canada has accepted a membership in the League of Nations committee established to study application of sanctions against unilateral repudiation of international obligations.

Sir George Perley, acting Prime Minister, today issued a statement setting forth the position taken by Canada.

Dr. W. A. Riddell, Canadian advisory officer at Geneva, has already notified the secretary-general of the League of Nations of the acceptance and reservation. The committee was named by the League Council following repudiation of parts of the Treaty of Versailles by Germany.

Besides Canada, the following nations were invited to take part: Great Britain, France, Chile, Hungary, Italy, The Netherlands, Portugal, Spain, Turkey, Russia and Yugoslavia.

Sir George Perley's statement read:

CANADA'S RESOLUTION
The invitation to Canada to accept a seat on a committee established by the Council of the League of Nations to consider sanctions against unilateral repudiation of international obligations arose out of a resolution adopted by the council on April 17.

The resolution was in three parts. The first part declared that Germany had failed in her duty to respect her undertakings, and condemned any unilateral repudiation of international obligations. The second part urged the continuance of the recent efforts to secure regional agreements for the preservation of peace.

The third part ran as follows: 3. Considering that the unilateral repudiation of international obligations may endanger the very existence of the League of Nations as an organization for maintaining peace and promoting security, (the council) decides that such repudiation, without prejudice to the application of measures already provided in international agreements, should, in the event of its having a relation to undertakings concerning the security of peoples and the maintenance of the peace of Europe, bring into play all appropriate measures on the part of the members of the League and within the framework of the covenant.

TO MAKE IT EFFECTIVE
The council decides that a committee shall be appointed to propose for this purpose measures to render the covenant more effective in the organization of collective security, and to define the particular economic and financial measures which might be applied, should, in the future, a state, whether a member of the League of Nations or not, endanger peace by unilateral repudiation of its international obligations.

The Canadian Government instructed Dr. Riddell to inform the secretary-general that it was prepared to act on the committee. It made clear, however, that its membership on the committee would not involve the acceptance in advance of any decision as to the applicability of sanctions in the circumstances indicated.

CANADA'S REPLY
The reply sent by Dr. Riddell to the invitation was as follows: 1. The Canadian Government has been advised that the Council of the League of Nations, following the adoption of a resolution regarding repudiation of treaty obligations, has invited Canada to participate in the work of a committee to consider the applicability of economic and financial sanctions in the event of unilateral repudiation of international obligations affecting the peace of Europe.

As regards the first part of the resolution the position of the Canadian Government was stated in the House of Commons on March 18 as follows: 1. The Canadian Government has noted with anxiety the announcement by the German Government of its intention to re-establish its military forces and to revive compulsory military service, contrary to the provisions of the Treaty of Versailles. It is regretted that this unilateral action has taken place on the eve of promising efforts to deal with the whole European arm's question, including the revision by agreement of the treaty restrictions on German armament.

RECOGNIZES IMPORTANCE
2. As regards the establishment of a committee to consider the applicability of economic and financial sanctions in future cases of repudiation of international obligations having a relation to undertakings concerning the security of peoples and the maintenance of the peace of Europe, the Canadian Government recognizes the importance of the problem and the desirability of full consideration of the implications of the adoption of the policy proposed by the council.

The Canadian Government is therefore prepared to accept membership on the committee.

A RESERVATION
In view, however, of the possibility of its participation in the work of the committee being interpreted as involving acceptance of the view

Curfew Will Not Ring Tonight as Juvenile Signal

THE curfew will not ring tonight. The council has passed the "buck" and left it up to the chief of police to decide whether children shall scamper home at the tolling of the bell, or rather the blast of the steam whistle, for that was the last type of curfew signal the city used.

At yesterday's meeting of the City Council, it was decided to ask the chief of police to bring in a recommendation regarding the request made for re-enactment of a by-law which would impose curfew measures on all children under sixteen years of age.

that under the covenant of the League, repudiation of such international obligations without recourse to war calls for the application of sanctions by League members or that the adoption of such a policy is necessarily feasible and desirable, the Canadian Government wishes to make it clear that its participation does not imply acceptance of any part of such an interpretation of the covenant and that it considers that any proposals for the applicability of sanctions in such a case should be considered in the committee on their merits.

J. M. MURRAY IS CALLED TO REST

Well-Known Victoria Grocer Passes in New Westminster—Funeral Today

Death came on Sunday to one of Victoria's best-known grocers, James M. Murray, 3172 Balfour Avenue, who succumbed at the home of his sister in New Westminster. For more than twenty years he was associated with the firm of Kirkham & Co., Port Street.

Born in Ontario, he spent some years in Eastern Canada, the Yukon and New Westminster before coming to Victoria more than twenty years ago. For practically the whole of that time he had been associated with Kirkham & Co., latterly as manager and shareholder.

In December, 1934, Mr. Murray retired, owing to ill-health. Early in April he moved to New Westminster to visit his sister, Mrs. C. McKenzie, in California, and brothers and sisters.

Funeral services will be conducted today on the Mainland.

Mr. Murray was very well-known in the wholesale and retail grocery business and a host of friends will mourn his passing.

He is survived by his widow in New Westminster, one daughter, Mrs. C. McKenzie, in California, and brothers and sisters.

Funeral services will be conducted today on the Mainland.

Horticultural Association to Entertain in Parade—Is Show Date Is Changed

An intensely interesting address on the history of English gardens was given at last night's meeting of the Victoria Horticultural Association by E. W. Neel. The meeting was held in the City Hall and drew a large attendance.

It was decided to enter a float in the May 24 parade, and a committee will be formed later to make the necessary arrangements. It will be recalled that the horticultural association had one of the most magnificent floats in the parade that was held for the King's coronation celebration twenty-four years ago.

Owing to the lateness of the season, the association decided to postpone its iris show to June 8. The original date was May 25.

Winners of the monthly competition at last night's meeting were as follows: Tulips, first, Mrs. E. W. Darcus; second, H. O. Simpson; Spring cabbage, first, T. Wallace; second, F. T. Rawlins; Tulips for new competitors, first, T. Bradbury, and second, G. Winter.

Planning to Develop Television Service By Cautious Steps

Head of Radio Corporation of America Tells Shareholders of Programme to Test Vision Radio Under Field Conditions

NEW YORK, May 7 (AP).—Field tests of "real" television, looking to the day when sight by radio may be as common as sound, are to be started in the United States as soon as the apparatus can be put into operation.

Construction work is to begin immediately, David Sarnoff, president of the Radio Corporation of America, told the annual stockholders' meeting today, with the expectation that the equipment will be ready in twelve to fifteen months.

Sarnoff stressed that the tests did not mean "a regular service of television is here or around the corner." He added that while "sound broadcasting remains the fundamental system of radio communication to the home," television is "promised as a step-by-step development that would supplement, not supplant existing radio service."

LABORATORY PICTURES
In their effort to develop high definition television, the R.C.A. engineers have produced, in the laboratory, pictures of 343 lines per image and sixty frames per second compared with the earlier tests when thirty lines and twelve frames were the best that could be transmitted.

"To bring the research results of the scientists out to the television laboratory and into the field," Sarnoff told the stockholders that a three-point plan had been worked out to that end.

THREE-POINT PLANS
This programme is to consist of: 1. The establishment of the first modern transmitting station in the United States.

2. Manufacture of a limited number of television receiving sets, to be placed on strategic points in investigating actual transmission conditions and problems.

The development of an experimental service to determine the best type of television programmes, "It will take from twelve to fifteen months to build and erect the experimental television transmitter, to manufacture the observation receivers and to commence transmission. The estimated cost of the project will be approximately $1,000,000."

CLOSE CALL WHEN BOAT OVERTURNS
THE DALLES, Ore., May 7 (AP).—Fred Beattie, Los Angeles cameraman, and Dick Williamson, fifteen, of Arlington, were recovering today from a narrow escape from death in the Columbia River. Their sailboat capsized late Sunday at Quinton Rapids, thirty-five miles east of The Dalles.

Williamson swam ashore from the middle of the stream, a remarkable feat as high waves prevailed with a gale blowing through the Columbia gorge. He called state police here and they sped to the scene to rescue Beattie, who was clinging to the overturned boat as it floated downstream.

The sailboat finally crashed into a rock in the river. The police launch was unable to approach the rock upon which Beattie climbed, because of high waves. Late in the evening the wind died down and the rescuers were able to reach the cameraman, who was exhausted by long immersion and cold.

BENNETT TO PRESENT GIFT FROM DOMINION

LONDON, May 7 (CP).—The city rested from the strenuous joys of Jubilee Day today, with the next great function of the twenty-fifth anniversary of Their Majesties' accession to the throne scheduled for tomorrow morning, a reception by the King to the Empire leaders and representatives of the diplomatic corps at St. James' Palace.

Special Session Will Deal With Estimates—Rate By-Law Introduced

Although the annual tax rate by-law was introduced at yesterday's meeting of the City Council, no action was taken in connection with the estimates. The special committee will submit a report to a meeting of the council to be held at 7:30 o'clock Monday night for the express purpose of dealing with the budget.

The tax rate by-law has to be passed by May 15, so the council will convene Monday night and will not rise until its task is finished.

The rate was struck at forty-one mills, divided as follows: 16.7794 mills for general purposes, 13.1225 mills for interest on debt, and 11.0981 mills for schools.

The annual relief loan by-law, amounting to $95,000, was introduced and passed through its preliminary readings.

Gives First Official German Account of Lusitania Sinking

Officer Aboard Submarine Which Torpedoed British Liner Says Ship Was Auxiliary Cruiser—Only One Missile Fired by U-Boat

(Copyright, 1935, by the Havas News Agency)

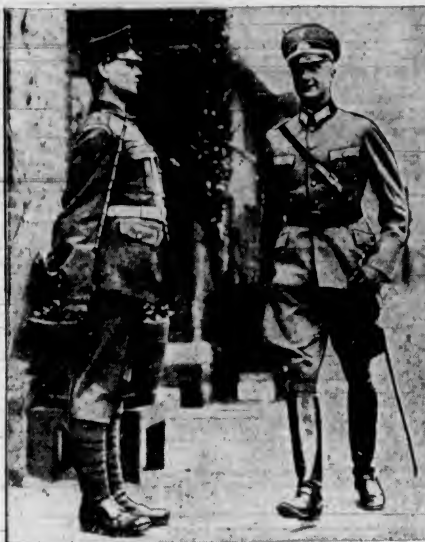

BERLIN, May 7.—An officer aboard the German submarine U-20, which torpedoed the Lusitania, revealed today in the newspaper Voelkischer Beobachter the first official German account of the disaster.

On the twentieth anniversary of the sinking, former Captain Lieut. Karl Scherb, an officer on the submarine, contributed a special statement to the Nazi organ blaming Great Britain for the catastrophe and asserting Germany had to defend itself against the British food blockade as a matter of "life or death."

In a vivid account entitled "The Torpedoing of the English Auxiliary Cruiser Lusitania," the former U-20 commander said that the ship was attacked on May 7, 1915, off the coast of Ireland. He said that the ship was an auxiliary cruiser, and that it was carrying a large cargo of foodstuffs for the British.

"Was it justified?" he asked. "Today Captain Lieut. Scherb, who was an officer on board the U-20, attempts to justify the torpedoing of the Lusitania. Germany was flanked on all sides and attacked by England with the

Officers Are Exchanged

Despite the apparently strained relations existing between Germany and other European countries, including Great Britain, the latter country and the Reich have recommended the exchange of officers for training at the two military schools which are exponents of both types of warfare. For the first time in many years a German officer, Lieut. von Wick, has become attached to a regiment at Aldershot for a military course. Here, Lieut. von Wick is pictured walking into the officers' mess of the Second Battalion, Grenadier Guards.

cruelest of all war measures—that of a hunger-blockade—in which Germany was forced to defend itself. Otherwise it meant certain defeat. By a formidable effort, Germany, thus placed in immense peril, had recourse to the submarine weapon.

"After February 18 every merchant ship found in English or Irish waters carrying the enemy flag was ordered destroyed."

BLANKET ORDER
"That was a blanket order issued to sink British ships and starve out England and to break down its internal resistance."

Sighting of the ship was described. "At 3 p.m. the commander said it was an English ship navigating without a flag. At 3:20 he ordered the first torpedo fired."

"After a thirty-five-second wait, a formidable explosion was heard. The effect," Captain Lieut. Scherb said, "surpassed all our expectations. The immense ship stopped, stricken by death. We still did not know what ship we had torpedoed."

"Captain Lieut. Scherb precisely observed that it was one single submarine, the U-20, that destroyed the Lusitania, firing only one torpedo. He expressed the belief that the Lusitania carried war munitions and that these munitions exploded under the impact of the torpedo, which sank the ship within twenty seconds."

PREMIER GARDNER
Mr. Kennedy said the best answer to the question of Canada's or the Prairie's future was that given recently by Premier James Gardiner, of Saskatchewan, who said:

"We, in the Prairies, are several million dollars better off today in spite of the past depression than in 1917."

In explaining this statement the Premier said from the early settlement days of the Prairies until 1915, borrowing had been carried on for telephones, schools, and general improvements. In 1915 the peak of the borrowing power was reached, and this was followed by two crop failures. At that time the people were unable to meet the interest on the principal and it was allowed to accumulate.

MINORITY MORTGAGES
Since then the principal and interest has been steadily paid off, until now, the Prairies are in a fair way to clearing off this debt, provided there are two successive years of good crops.

Premier Gardiner further pointed out that people in settling Southern Saskatchewan, erected and lived in sod shacks. Later, they built homes with modern conveniences and raised educated families. Now they have mortgages on their homes; but they are minority mortgages and are on homes that will have greatly increased value with the coming of more prosperous times that are near at hand.

The Premier stated that one good crop this year would put the country on its feet, and that there was every indication of a good crop, as there was sufficient moisture in the ground and no strong winds blowing through the country.

War Veteran Is Called to Rest At Home in City
Death summoned, early Sunday, Henry Bromley Davies, aged seventy-eight years, at his home on Superior Street. He was born in Wales and came to Canada forty years ago, finally settling in Victoria in 1915.

The deceased had an active military career and served with the 4th Hussars and Royal Engineers. He saw action in the Zulu campaign and the Matabele war. Mr. Davies was with the South African Constabulary during the South African War and was also overseas during the Great War. He held the South Africa King and Queen Medal, the 1914-15 Star, the Victory and General Service Medal and the British General Service Medal.

The funeral will be held today, the cortege leaving Carter's Funeral Home at 3:30 p.m. and proceeding to Colwood Burial Park, where service will be conducted by Captain F. H. Buck. The funeral will be held under the auspices of the Army and Navy Veterans, of which Mr. Davies had been a valued member.

Backache is Sign of Kidney Trouble
Backache is Nature's warning that there is something wrong with your kidneys. Never neglect it. Backache, if not corrected, is often followed by more serious forms of kidney trouble such as Rheumatism, Dropsy or even Bright's Disease. At the first sign of kidney trouble, such as Backache, turn unhesitatingly to Dodd's Kidney Pills—which for over three generations have been the favorite kidney tonic and remedy.

Cities Exchange Apprentices and Widen Experience

Value of the policy laid down by the parks committee of the City Council on the recommendation of Alderman John A. Worthington was realized yesterday when two apprentices to the park superintendent were appointed to the permanent staff.

Both these youths have been trained not only in Victoria parks, but also in Seattle and Portland by a special arrangement whereby apprentices are exchanged by the cities so that they can gain a wider experience. By this method the youths learn a great deal about the laying out of parks and the introduction of new features.

SYMPATHY WITH GERMANY

A notable plea for sympathy with Germany in her present position, notable more particularly because of the source from which it comes, is contained in a recent letter published by the English press from the pen of Mr. Edward Price Bell. He is an American newspaper correspondent in London who may perhaps be described as easily the best of his tribe because he does not suffer from the distressing sin of parochialism. He regards the Germany of National Socialism, incarnated in Herr Hitler, as the key to the peace of Europe and to an effective organization of the world against war.

In Mr. Bell's opinion, the Germans have suffered enough, even if their guilt has been as severe as their several critics aver. "This," he says, "is not the time for blind adherence to harsh verdicts, especially one-sided verdicts—no, certainly, if we want peace." He draws attention to the repeated declarations by Herr Hitler that his purposes and policies are peaceful; that he is ready to pledge himself and his nation to non-aggression; that he is prepared to armaments to any point to which the other Powers will go. Moreover, Mr. Bell points to Herr Hitler's promise to consider favorably returning to the League of Nations "whenever it shall be projected, truly and frankly, from the standpoint of an undivided world and not from that of a world of conquerors on the one hand and conquered on the other."

Mr. Bell discusses the charge that Herr Hitler cannot be trusted because he has been secretly rearming Germany and has torn up the military clauses of the Treaty of Versailles. This charge, he says, should be dropped in the interests of peace. Herr Hitler contends that the rearming of Germany in an armed and arming world is "more than morally unexceptionable; that it is an imperative national duty." Germany, indeed, takes the standpoint that the victors in the Great War, by increasing instead of decreasing their arms, were the first to violate the Treaty of Versailles. The dispute in this particular Mr. Bell considers sterile.

Then Mr. Bell goes on to discuss the Hitlerian attitude towards international obligations. There is no reason, he says, to think that the German Chancellor will be false to these. He takes them seriously. Why he does not approve of multilateral treaties for mutual assistance in certain regions is because they involve possibilities to which he will not commit Germany. Mr. Bell says that within the past year he has had the honor of interviewing at length Premiers and Foreign Ministers of the principal countries of the world, with the exception of M. Stalin, "to whom the white light of international journalism seems a bit blinding." He found all of them peacefully inclined and striving to make actual conditions compatible with peace, the head of the German State no less than the others. Moreover, Mr. Bell saw in Herr Hitler a desire for a good and abiding understanding with Great Britain and the United States. This American correspondent considers an excellent and trustworthy sign, as Herr Hitler knows that whoever wants war is wasting time in seeking friendship with the United States.

PATERNALISM

The task of government is bound to come in for more and more criticism as time elapses. The reason for this is the way of desire among so many people to learn more and more upon political paternalism. The consequence of this is that governments, in a number of countries, are attempting to engage in tasks for which their personnel are not fitted. They are becoming what The Ottawa Journal calls "vast clearing houses for all the ills, follies, hopes and ambitions of society." They are engaging in a form of collectivism of which previous generations never dreamed.

What is going on is in the nature of a revolution in the form of government, which more and more is delegating its authority and creating a bureaucracy which must, in the course of time, mean heavier taxation to sustain the agencies of government. The fact is that government is attempting tasks for which it is ill-equipped, in some respects not equipped at all, and those it selects to carry out its purposes have but mediocre requirements and their own preconceived ideas of how society should be saved from itself. For the moment paternalism is triumphant. The people will turn upon it and rend it to pieces when they find out the cost that is involved and the inefficiency of the system. For the time being, in the state of mental unrest that prevails, the people, or at least a considerable section of them, are willing to try anything new, irrespective of what the accumulated wisdom of the ages has decreed. It is a sporadic symptom of the human mind to go to war with the knowledge of the past.

THE NEW MORALITY

In presenting the news of the day to the public it sometimes happens that a cold and colorless recital of the substantive facts with the descriptive adjectival element eliminated altogether or contracted to an irreducible minimum proves more impressive than a lavish display of epithet or a labored emotional appeal. With these considerations in mind it may be profitable to mention briefly, and with intellectual and moral detachment for the moment, an incident which occurred in Vancouver in the course of the May Day demonstration.

According to press reports the managers of the demonstration included among their speakers a girl of twelve who made a formal address to the assembled crowd. It is also stated that a year ago the same child "took a prominent part in the demonstration at the Arena." It appears also that nearly 1,500 children absented themselves from school during the afternoon and that of this number approximately 1,000 walked in the parade. Among the speakers at the meeting place was a private school teacher who told his auditors that he had shut his eyes while members of his class left to attend the demonstration.

From the earliest ages it has been the practice of parents and other educators to allow and even to encourage children of tender age to "do" recitations in school, repeat with appropriate emphasis, inflection, and gesture the words of famous orations, make up little speeches of their own upon harmless subjects of debate, and even given dramatic representations upon the school stage. This sort of thing is harmless enough in itself and may indeed possess an educational value of its own. Ordinary people usually assess these school exercises at their true value, which is purely subjective, purely educational. Men and women of sense know very well that the "opinions" of children upon political, social, literary, and dramatic subjects possess no objective value whatever.

The incidents mentioned above are symptomatic of the mentality and also of the morality of the managers of the demonstration and of those who attended it. The managers and their associates are perhaps aware that children have no real contribution to make to social economy, either by way of making speeches or walking in parades. Some of the audience may have felt a certain indignation and shame at this exploitation of innocent children. The significant thing is, however, that there were many people in the crowd who were willing to assist as spectators at this scene, listening with apparent relish to the private schoolmaster's ostentatious confession of duplicity as well as to the "oratory" of a precocious twelve-year-old girl.

AN ECONOMIC TRIUMPH

Mr. Neville Chamberlain's latest budget is regarded both as a personal and political triumph. The most significant emphasis placed on it is that it marks the end of the depression era. The worst that any critic has been able to say about it is that it is first-rate electioneering. It was probably never intended as such. Mr. Chamberlain is merely fulfilling promises made by the National Government. Among these was the intention to end the rigid economy applied to the Civil Service when conditions warranted that course. Now Civil Service pay reductions are being made good as from July 1 next. In Great Britain this is regarded as an indication to private employers that they should follow suit in reducing the wage cuts resorted to in 1931. In commenting on the budget, The London Daily Express says: "You may confidently believe that Recovery is almost complete. Britain stands today on the threshold of New Conquest." The budget is one of the most hopeful of auguries in this Jubilee year.

THE WIND MOANS

The wind moans round the castle,
And sighs thro' the ruined hall,
Where once lights shone so brightly,
Where now only moonbeams fall.

The wind moans round the castle,
And sighs in each ruined tower,
Where gallant knights and ladies sat
In the twilight's wailing hour.

The wind moans round the castle,
And howls thro' its archway old
Of its ivy-covered gateway,
Where once rode the spearmen bold.

Who went with Sir James the Douglas,
Scots knight of untarnished name,
Who forward flung King Robert's heart
Amidst the Moor ranks in Spain.

—Campbell of Saddell.

Popularity is a blaze of illumination, or alas, of conflagration kindled around a man; showing what is in him; not putting the smallest item more into him; often abstracting much from him; confining the poor man himself into ashes and caput mortuum.

—Carlyle.

To be always thinking about your manners is not the way to make them good; because the very perfection of manners is not to think about yourself.

—Whately.

Progress, the growth of power, is the end and boon of liberty; and, without this, a people may have the name, but want the substance and spirit of freedom.

—Channing.

Ignorance, when voluntary, is criminal; and a man may be properly charged with that evil which he neglected or refused to learn how to prevent.

—Johnson.

Note and Comment

E. R. D.

This is the word that year by year,
While in his place the school is set,
Every one of her sons must hear,
And none that hears it dare forget,
This they all with joyful mind,
Bear through life like a torch in flame,
And falling true to the host behind—
"Play up! play up! and play the game!"

We are not sure why, but the reports in the newspapers of the Jubilee celebration in London called to mind the Scotsman's toast, "Here's tae coarls; wha's like us!" If we have not got the right thing, we are sure to be corrected. Without being boastful or vain-glorious, we submit that the above toast is applicable to all the people of the British Empire. There are none like us. When the people of Merry England make merry, there are no people on the face of the earth who give themselves over so wholeheartedly to merriment. Even the classes, who are said to take their pleasures sadly, relax their solemnity and austerity and become as merry as the light-hearted and witty Cockney.

We do not know how many millions of people there are in London by actual count, but we are told that at least a million more people have gathered in the city for the purpose of taking part in the Jubilee, in the solemn services of the sanctuary and in the gorgeous and joyous pageantry, in celebration of the coronation which took place twenty-five years ago. There has never been anything like it in the history of the world. There never may be anything like it again, for manners and customs change with the times; the shouting and the tumult dies and the captains and the kings depart, according to the inspired words of the poet, who is said to be destined to receive long-deferred Royal honors.

But there is this thought, and there is consolation in it; that while in all other countries there are revolutions and constitutional upheavals, there is an element of permanence in British institutions. In Great Britain the people congregate for the purpose of doing honor to and displaying devotion to the living head of the state. In other countries such things are impossible, for the head of the state is selected in accordance with the will of the people for the fleeting moment, and the popular leader of today may be the execrated figure of tomorrow. In one country the people march past and bow in reverence before the dead and decaying figure who in life did not free them from depression, but delivered them into the hands of despotic oppressors.

A profound philosopher has told us that everything in the world is subject to change except human nature. That observation is true, but it is not something to view in a spirit of sadness. Rather is it something to accept in a spirit of thankfulness. The spirit of England always has been merry. The historians as well as the poets have testified to that as a fact. Italy has been demonstrated in war as well as in sport. There are critics who deprecate the merriment incidental to the Jubilee celebration. The critics are particularly deprecatory of the expense of what they call the Royal show. They say it is a display of childishness, and that the money spent might better have been used for charitable and other purposes.

Well, we do not know that a childish spirit is altogether to be reprehended. A higher authority than even the Canadian or the Old Country radicals said something upon that point. And if we reduce the question to merely an economic standard, it is not possible that the returns from the celebration will vastly more than balance the expenditures.

He was an American who boasted that he had collected the greatest show on earth. The greatest show on earth has been given in London, and the greatest and most impressive feature of it is the spirit of merriment of the English people. That is the greatest attraction. There may be differences of opinion as to which city is the greatest city in the world; but there can be no differences of opinion as to which city is the centre of attraction in the world during this celebration week. Holy Rome has her special attractions for devout pilgrims. Gay Paris is a magnet for the devotees to pleasures. London is the place for merriment born of spontaneous gaiety of spirit and capacity for exuberant enjoyment. The centre of the Royal show is, of course, the Sovereign of the people, but the attraction of it to the multitudes from other cities and foreign countries is the display of the affection of the British people to the King and his household. What are the special qualities which unite the hearts and the minds of ruler and people? The Archbishop of Canterbury defined them in his sermon in the Royal Chapel on Sunday morning: Simplicity and rectitude in private life, devotion to Wonder how the craze to wrap everything in cellophane has spread. First we had candy, cigarettes and cigars shrouded in this transparent material. Then followed shirts, nylons, and a host of other commodities. This was a local shop displays hose nozzles enveloped in cellophane. Perhaps we shall next see automobile tires, newspapers, boots or lumps of coal drawn into the fold.

THE ROYAL ADDRESS

Sir—Permit me, through your correspondence column, to compliment the management of the Victoria Broadcasting station, C.P.C.T., on Vancouver Island, on the fine reception and clarity of their Majesty's Silver Jubilee programme, which deserves special mention.

Trusting this will be conveyed to the Canadian Radio Commission with sincere appreciation and thanks.

LONDON SCHOOL OF ECONOMICS

Sir—It is stated in The Colonist's leading editorial of May 2 that "Major Douglas takes the attitude of the entire staff of the London School of Economics. . . . are in the pay of the bankers." Now, "takes the attitude" might suggest that Major Douglas just made this up for his own amusement, whereas it is a cold, unadvised fact. The London School of Economics was set up by the banks, is endowed by them, and its board of governors is adorned at this moment by Sir Basil Blackett and J. T. Harcourt, both directors of the Bank of England. This, of course, is no imprudent of evil; it is surely reasonable for the British banking system to supply the financial support for the operation of an institution to provide a supply of economists who will agree with the banking viewpoint.

It would, on the other hand, surely be unreasonable to expect this support to continue should the professors of the London School of Economics cease to agree with this viewpoint.

One doesn't have to be cynical to suppose that economists with views like that don't like don't get jobs as economists, either with banks or as professors in the London School of Economics.

$15,000 Subscribed In Tourist Canvass; Drive Will Continue

Campaign Is Extended for One Week to Obtain
Objective of $40,000 to Carry Out Plans—
Mayor Leeming Tells of Value

BUSINESSMEN campaigning for $40,000 to carry out plans of the Tourist Trade Development Association of Victoria and Vancouver Island last evening reported collection of seventy-one pledges over the week-end for $2,030, of which $1,774 was received in cash. This brings the total to date of $52,264, with $9,676 of the amount in cash.

Mayor David Leeming, who occupied the chair during a dinner meeting held in Spencer's dining-room, told of the benefits to be derived from increased tourist trade.

WILL SHOW HUGE GAIN

"Have we any realization of what development of the tourist business means to us?" he asked. "It is capable of increasing the value of land in Greater Victoria by twenty to thirty million dollars. Without an artificial boom, it will be possible to bring an additional forty million dollars to the Island. I venture to say that in five years' time, when all plans of the Tourist Trade Development Association have been carried out, your business will show a huge increase.

"Economic conditions have taken our business from us, but the tourist trade is as yet untouched," the Mayor continued. "We can easily from Chicago to the Pacific Coast.

Mid-Air Collision Narrowly Averted

It appears as though these two Voight observation airplanes of the United States Marines are crashing in mid-air, as they manoeuvre about over the naval base at San Pedro, Cal. However, they straightened out in time to avoid a collision and went through their manoeuvres in perfect style.

There exists the biggest pool of wealth in the world—an unlimited supply of tourists on the best highways in the world. We have something to sell them better than any other island and we must successfully put it across," the Mayor concluded.

GREAT POSSIBILITIES

"Business possibilities through the tourists are practically unlimited. This summer we expect greater numbers from the Middle West and eastern parts of the United States over the recently-completed State Highway No. 10.

By a unanimous vote, it was decided to carry on the campaign until next Tuesday, when another dinner meeting will be held in Spencer's dining-room. The Mayor said that one concern which had already donated $500 had promised to give 10 per cent of the total collection during the $40,000 drive.

Frank Paulding, campaign organizer, stated that he had never yet seen a drive so well supported by those participating.

PRESENTS SILVER CUPS

Mayor Leeming presented silver cups to the three winners of the seventy-seven-mile bicycle race from Victoria to Nanaimo, held on April 27 in conjunction with the Tourist Trade Development Association rally, and managed by the Victoria Cycle Club. The riders participated and eight finished.

The winners were Neil Du'ail, 4 hours 21 minutes; John Newman, 4 hours 27 minutes; and Ted Whitehead, 4 hours 43 minutes.

Norval Peterson led community singing of several songs at the meeting.

DEATH CALLS J. A. TURNER

Pioneer of Calgary and Prominent Stockbreeder
Succumbs Here

John A. Turner, aged sixty-seven years, pioneer of Calgary and prominent stockbreeder of the Prairies more than twenty years ago, died at his Uplands residence here last night. He had been ill for only a short time.

Mr. Turner was born in Manawatu, New Zealand, on September 11, 1867. He came to Canada as a young man in 1882 and four years later moved to Calgary, where he opened a stock farm.

For many years the deceased was well known on the Prairies for the fine thoroughbred stock he produced and sold. Mr. Turner centered his stock-raising activities on a farm occupying about a section a short distance from Calgary.

One of the sections farmed by the deceased was the famous Turner Valley oilfields, which were named after him.

A consistent entrant into major fairs in the Western provinces, Mr. Turner was equally a consistent winner, having carried off many major awards during the time he was engaged in stock farming.

RETIRES FROM BUSINESS

In 1914 he retired from active business and came to Victoria to make his home. Mr. Turner moved to the Uplands and had resided there for the past twenty-one years.

During his residence here he officiated as judge of livestock at many British Columbia fairs.

Recently he returned from a lengthy trip to the Old Country. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Ida Turner, at home; two daughters, Mrs. W. B. Leach and Mrs. James Gray, both of Victoria, and a son, Russell H. Turner, of Port Alberni. A son, Dawson, predeceased his father last October.

Private funeral services will be conducted, and it is requested no flowers be sent. Arrangements are in the hands of Hayward's B.C. Funeral Company.

WOULD PREVENT HINDU TEAMING

Petition Made to Nanaimo
Council—Will Be Argued
On Monday

NANAIMO, May 7.—A petition from Nanaimo Teamsters' Association objecting to the city granting licences to Hindus to deliver coal and wood and do general teaming caused considerable discussion at the regular meeting of the City Council tonight, with Alderman Inkster acting Mayor.

Pointing out that no response had accompanied the petition and that Hindus were His Majesty's subjects, a motion made by Alderman Drake carried, to have the teamster and a Hindu applying for a licence appear before the open council next Monday night.

The board decided to call immediately for tenders for the construction of the South Forks Water Works Bridge and to give ratepayers first chance on the work.

Discussion followed a motion made by Alderman Dixon that the Nanaimo council pay no more relief. "Now that the unemployed are in favor of work and wages, which the city taxpayers can no longer stand, I am in favor of shifting the responsibility on the Government, where it belongs," Alderman Dixon said.

As there was no second, Alderman Drake urged that, owing to women and children being affected by any decision the council might make that the board table the matter for one week, which was finally decided upon.

THE TOWER Subject of Club Talk

Kyrle Symons, M.A., will speak at the meeting of the Women's Canadian Club to be held next Tuesday afternoon at the Empress Hotel. His subject will be "The Tower of London," a timely topic at this time of the Jubilee celebration, when every historic monument of the Empire's capital gains fresh interest. There will be special musical items.

WILL CONSIDER LEGAL ASPECT

Surveyor's Case Is Again
Before Mr. Justice Lucas
Who Delays Judgment

Mr. Justice F. G. T. Lucas yesterday morning, in the Supreme Court, heard further argument with respect to a ruling of the Corporation of the Land Surveyors of British Columbia with regard to one of their number who was suspended. His Lordship reserved decision.

The surveyor against whom charges were laid by the corporation was Noel Humphreys, of Vancouver. These charges affected twenty-eight mineral claims in the Bridge River mining camp. F. C. Green, Surveyor-General of the Province, it was stated, discovered the field notes, filed with the department, could not be made to agree with official maps and records.

The corporation is given authority under the Act of Incorporation to exercise discipline over members and suspend the license of the surveyor for three years and at the same time impose a fine of some $500, to be paid before he could again be licensed.

EXCEEDED POWERS

An appeal, allowed under the Act of Incorporation of the surveyor's body, was taken before Mr. Justice Lucas in Vancouver, who decided the corporation had exceeded its powers.

What action may be taken following that ruling was argued before His Lordship yesterday, and his decision is awaited.

A. D. Crease appeared for the Corporation of Land Surveyors, with Henry Hall, K.C., for the Surveyor-General, and J. A. McInnes, of Vancouver, for Mr. Humphreys.

The question argued was whether the proper course should be for His Lordship to hear the complaint on the appeal, or refer the matter back to the corporation for a rehearing and decision in line with what the court regards as the limits of the corporation's powers.

QUESTION OF POWERS
Mr. Crease quoted a number of authorities to show why the matter should be returned to the Corporation of Land Surveyors. As the main questions to be dealt with were matters which the profession was best able to grapple with, His Lordship would be able to decide solely on the legal features of the act and whether it had been complied with.

Mr. Hall mentioned the important bearing the matter might have on the Surveyor-General's work. At present there was a great deal of uncertainty with regard to the bounds of mineral claims in an important mining section.

Mr. McInnes said he did not understand why the case had been brought to Victoria for consideration after having been heard at Vancouver. His Lordship maintained the reference was in order, and all he wished to know was the proper course to follow. On this point he reserved his judgment, to be handed down later.

STRIKERS SEEK FOR MEDIATION

Provincial Government to Be Asked to Send Official to Goldbridge

GOLDBRIDGE, B.C., May 7 (CP).—Striking gold miners of the Bridge River District tonight prepared to ask the British Columbia Government for a mediator in their dispute with mine management over demands for increased wages and better working and living conditions.

Shortly after employees of Braden Mine, Ltd., voted 138-42 to join 350 miners of the Pioneer Gold Mines of British Columbia, Ltd., who went on strike Monday, spokesmen for the strike said the Provincial Government would be asked to send a Labor Department official here in an effort to settle the strike.

The men are demanding $1 per day increase in wages.

VOTE TO JOIN STRIKE
Wayside Consolidated Gold Mines, Ltd., employees voted seven to one to join the strike, but their exact number is not known.

Meantime employees of the Minlo Gold Mine, Ltd., voted against an immediate walkout but expressed sympathy with those on strike and decided to contribute to the strike fund.

An undetermined number of employees of Pacific Eastern Gold, Ltd., and Congress Gold Mines, Ltd., were also reported to have voted to walkout.

Employees of three other mines, Pilot Gold Mines, Ltd.; B.R.K. Gold Mines, Ltd.; and Braden Mines, Ltd., are considering joining the strike.

No disorders have been reported since the strike started. The five beer parlors here closed their doors today at the request of the strikers, in order to assist orderly conduct during the strike. The Government liquor store closed tonight and will not reopen until the matter is settled.

first rejected the Harrison compromise bonus plan, 54 to 30, and then, by a 32 to 35 vote, the Vinson-American Legion proposal for cash payment out of ordinary Treasury funds.

CREDIT TWO FACTORS

Observers credited two factors with playing some part in the final result. One was a record-breaking deluge of telegrams asking support of the Patman bill, inspired by Father Charles E. Coughlin, of Detroit.

The second was one of the few speeches of the vote-filled day. Although obviously in a mood for action rather than talk, the Senator listened carefully to Senator Gibbs McAdoo, California Democrat, who rarely makes floor speeches. The former Treasury secretary came out strong for the Patman bill, holding that there was nothing to fear from its proposed $2,000,000,000 issue of new currency.

NOTICE OF MOTION

After the final ballot, passing the Patman measure after it had been substituted for the Vinson bill, the legislation appeared ready to go to President Roosevelt as soon as signed by Vice-President John Garner and Speaker Joseph Byrns of the House. But Senator Bennett Clark, Missouri Democrat, served notice of a motion to reconsider the vote, which would hold up the bill. This probably will be disposed of promptly, barring unforeseen developments.

Under the Patman bill, the average veteran who had not borrowed on his certificate would get $1,000 immediately. The average veteran who has borrowed would get about $497. Altogether 3,500,000 veterans in round numbers hold the adjusted service certificates.

Petrarch, Michel Angelo, Sir Isaac Newton, Raphael, Chopin and Niccolò Paganini were never married.

Four Productions Given Last Night In Drama Festival*Lady Tupper, of Winnipeg, Adjudicator, Gives Valuable Advice to Groups—All Plays Well Received by Audience

VICTORIA needs a little theatre building. Mayor David Leeming told an audience of 200 persons assembled in the Shrine Auditorium last evening to witness four plays produced as the second day offering of the British Columbia Drama Festival. His Worship urged the various dramatic societies to amalgamate and form a strong association.

Archie MacCorkindale wrote and directed the first play, a melodrama entitled "Murder in the Headlines." It dealt with a murder trial in a United States court. Lady Tupper, adjudicator, pointed out that the play was well conducted and held interest, but the climax was spoiled by the acting. It was produced by Punch and Judy Theatre.

SOME CRITICISMS
"Our Husband," the second play, dealt with a wealthy nobleman, Lord Bellingford, who invited all his four ex-wives to dinner. Lady Tupper asserted that the play needed more sophisticated treatment. It was directed by Nellie Scoarott and produced by Croft Studio group.

"Jewels of the Lurch," the adjudicator praised as a charming play. The scene was set in an ancient tomb where three robbers had gathered to loot a grave. The lighting, apparel and exits of the tomb watchmen were criticised. It was produced by Forbes - Robertson Players and directed by Ethel Reese-Burns.

"Mable," a comedy by the R. E. S. Players, directed by Roca Semple, was classed interesting by Lady Tupper, but the properties left much to be desired.

GOOD VARIETY
Last night's programme offered a good variety and style in productions and embraced a tragedy, two comedies and a play, and the audience, judging by the applause, thoroughly enjoyed the efforts of the amateur players. Although the criticisms, in some instances, were severe, the players and the audience benefited by the "advice" given by one so well versed in the art of stagecraft as Lady Tupper, founder and honorary director of the Winnipeg Players' Guild.

The winning play of last night was not announced by the adjudicator, and those plays which will be included in the finals will be announced by Lady Tupper at the conclusion of the contest on Friday night. It has been the custom, in the past, to announce the winning play at the conclusion of each day's contest.

MURDER MELODRAMA
"Murder in the Headlines" was a difficult play to handle, having no more than thirteen players in the cast and required a tremendous amount of preparation. However, it was produced with a minimum of errors and went off well, and sustained the interest of the audience. The climax, as stated by the adjudicator, was not all that it could have been.

The players in the offering were: E. L. Byng, the Judge; Gordon Buchanan, prosecuting attorney; Michael Hepple, attorney for the defence; William Willmott, clerk of the court; Patricia Pennock, court stenographer; Logan Byng, police inspector; Dallas Homer-Dixon played Rita Carlisle of the Police; Noel Cusack, her maid; Archie MacCorkindale, a chauffeur; Mary MacKay, telephone operator; William Lewis, elevator boy; Mabel Riddell, a charwoman; and George Durham, a doorman.

A GOOD COMEDY
"Our Husband" was the comedy very well done by the Croft Studio Group in a drawing-room scene in Lord Bellingford's home in London. The comedy parts were well sustained and the players were admirably suited to the action of the play. Like all comedies, the most difficult for amateurs, there were bare spots, but on the whole it was a good offering. The players were D. J. MacDonald, carrier; P. E. Corby, Lord Bellingford; and Beattie McMaster, Jean Rutledge, Elma

Cooking School Has Popular Reception From Big Audience

Hundreds of Housewives Attend Interesting Demonstration by Miss Claire Andree, Given at Shrine Auditorium Under Daily Colonist Auspices

THE fine mysteries of cake-making, sandwich-building, the mixing of pie and pudding ingredients, laundering of fine fabrics, enamelling of floors, and even of the brewing of tea were demonstrated with artistic finesse yesterday afternoon to the capacity audience that filled the Shrine Auditorium for the first of The Daily Colonist Cooking and Homemakers School classes which are being held here this week.

Miss Claire Andree, who arrived here on Sunday from Edmonton with Miss Helen Dougherty to conduct the course, was in charge of the demonstrations yesterday, and completely captivated her listeners with her clear and incisive style, enlivened with a spice of humor. With a deftness of hand beautiful to watch, and explaining each process as she worked, she demonstrated ten recipes, nearly any one of which is of practical value in the average home, and in addition gave an illustration of the use of the various articles of kitchen equipment with which the stage was furnished.

Numerous practical hints were dropped in passing, such, for instance, as how to grease a cake tin, the use of crackers as crumbs, the necessity of cooking all chocolate mixtures at a little lower temperature than other mixtures, the advisability of not adding too much condiment to mushroom preparations, the effect of too much baking powder and too cool an oven in making a cake coarse, and the possibility of breaking Pyrex dishes by a few smart morning dresses and frocks suitable for wear when shopping, and available at prices within the average housewife's budget. Two or three in each class were so becoming and at the same time practical that the spectators accorded them the badge of wholehearted approval by applauding enthusiastically.

Miss Andree's own tailored white dress, with neat collar and cuffs, her beautifully coiffed hair, and daintily manicured hands, demonstrated the possibility of looking cool and attractive even in the midst of pots and pans. She also emphasized the importance of proper shoes, with flexible soles. Women spent so much of their time in the kitchen on their feet that it would repay them to pay more for their "duty" and street shoes than for their dressy ones. Proper hose were also important. In referring to each of these points in the housewife's dress, she mentioned special manufacturers who could provide the ideal article.

READY WIT

An instance of the lecturer's ready wit was heard when she began her demonstration of the laundering of fine fabrics. This immediately followed her demonstration of making muffins:

"Now we're going to pretend it's Sunday evening, forget our cooking for a minute, and get our laundry ready. First sort, then soak, and in about fifteen minutes it'll be Monday morning and we'll be ready to begin to do our washing," she breezily announced, while the audience laughed.

With the help of her assistants she put various articles to soak in Rinsol soda, and after a lapse of ten minutes or so, during which she went on with other demonstrations, she went across to the B.C. Electric washing machine and completed the laundry operation by putting the soaked articles through the wringer into the hot suds, then, a few minutes later, running them once more through the wringer and proceeding to a demonstration of the ironing machine.

"Soaking saves rubbing, and lack of rubbing saves clothes," she observed in the course of these operations, advising the separation of sheets, table linen, men's shirts, and various other articles into different pans during the soaking operations.

TEA AND COFFEE

An essential in the making of good tea and coffee was the purchase of good brands of tea and coffee, Jameson's being used in the course of the demonstrations. The table-spoon was used as the standard of measure for coffee, and a teaspoon for tea, one spoonful per cup with an additional one for the pot being used in each instance. Seven minutes for "perking" the first four tablespoons of coffee and one for each additional spoonful, were recommended in making coffee.

On the floor in front of the stage was a breakfast table, set with attractive "gingham" pattern china furnished by the Hudson's Bay Company, and a linen cloth, also in the new "gingham" pattern, provided by the Belfast linen shop. The silver (Rogers) was lent by F. W. Francis, the jeweler, and the attractive bowl of flowers in the centre of the table was sent by Brown's Nurseries. Many of the members of the audience, after the demonstration, went forward to examine these and the various furnishings of the "kitchen."

The following recipes were demonstrated:

Local Club Praised by Chief Guide

A letter from Lady Baden-Powell, chief Guide, was read last night at the regular meeting of the Local Association of Girl Guides by Miss Hilda Leighton, district commissioner. In part it read as follows: "I have been so very glad to have the opportunity of meeting so many of the members of your committee and association, and I do think that you are lucky in having gained such strong support in what you might call our 'lay channels.'" To mean a great deal to have the full sympathy of thinking women, who represented local authorities, educational authorities and the parents of guides as well.

GAIN PUBLIC SUPPORT

"The fact of so many of these belonging to the association was all to the good in gaining public support and backing, especially if all these could be urged to do something definite to help such for instance as acting propagandists to make the true aims of guiding known; as 'recruits' to draw in more and more actual workers from among their friends; (helping to raise funds for poor companies); creating, tentatively, the encouragement of things like country dancing, singing, etc.) and other activities that would help Guides to attain a high standard."

KEEN ABOUT WORK

"Your local association and committee members appeared to me to be really keen about the work, and I do so appreciate their kindly interest in all that I had to tell them at their various meetings," the communication said.

Jubilee Well Celebrated At All Up-Island Points

LADYBETH, May 7.—This city celebrated the King's Silver Jubilee in impressive style yesterday. Hundreds of children, most of them in costume, participated in a fancy dress parade during the early afternoon in the Agricultural Hall upon the occasion of the crowning of the May Queen.

Belle Beattie, the May Queen, and her two attendants, Cora Dabbs and Isabel Allen, presented a pretty picture, as Miss Betty Lowe, Miss Ladysmith of 1934, with her court, crowned the royalty of the cherry blossom season here. Mayor Walkem officiated at the ceremonies, while Mr. and Mrs. T. Colling and Miss E. Bauld, Mrs. W. W. Walkem, Miss G. Kerr and Dr. Hamilton judged.

AN EXCELLENT LEADER
Heading the parade, Florrie Byatt as Britannia, was an impressive and efficient leader, and led the children through the intricate figures of the march in commendable style. An exhibition of dancing and gymnastics by school pupils was well received by the large gathering of spectators.

A friendly game of football between the city's two leading teams punctuated the interval before the lighting of the huge bonfire on Market Square in the evening. Hundreds of people assembled there to listen to the music of the Lady-smith-South Wellington Band, and as darkness fell the flames of the fire cast a glow of friendly good-will over the city. Later in the night, the remembrances of worried parents and the walls of reluctant children as they were dragged away from the dying embers home-wards added a new note to the day's festivities.

A dance at night, at which a large crowd from all points was noted, featured the presentation by Mayor W. W. Walkem of the Jubilee medals awarded locally. The recipients, Mrs. A. Campbell, for the past several years matron of the Lady-smith General Hospital, and A. A. Moore, active in local veterans' organizations and other work, acknowledged the honor.

SPORTS AT QUALICUM

QUALICUM BEACH, May 7.—Qualicum Beach was well decorated with flags on the Jubilee Day. Sports were held on the recreation grounds, commencing with the flag-raising, before which the school children marched past and went through some very pretty evolutions, under the leadership of Miss E. M. Caswell, the Junior teacher.

Rev. C. Pinnermore and Principal A. P. Smith kept the records of the sports. Each child received a present after the flag-raising. Races for all ages and softball matches were enjoyed by the attending residents and competitors.

E. Dostan, the high school principal, supervised the races, helped by Gilbert Mant and Miss Caswell. After the sports, the children went to the Community Hall and were served a delightful tea, each child being presented with a special Jubilee mug. The ladies of the district were responsible for this part of the programme. After tea, the children received the prizes for the races. G. H. Aldous assisted Mrs. J. Parker in presenting them, A. P. Pinnermore and Rev. C. Pinnermore also taking part. G. H. Aldous, at the close, asked the children to show their appreciation and thanks to the committee for the splendid manner in which all the arrangements were made and carried out. The youngsters responded in a very prolonged clapping of hands. It is expected that a surplus sum will be available for the King's Cancer Fund.

A financial meeting will be held on Saturday. Towards dusk, everyone attended a big bonfire and fireworks display on the beach, and so ended a day that will be remembered by all.

COURTENAY CELEBRATES

COURTENAY, May 7.—Their Majesties' Silver Jubilee celebrations here included special prayers in the churches and a special public service in the Native Sons' Hall on Sunday afternoon. The town was gay with flags for the general holiday on Monday, when public schools of the district held a field and track day, and May Queen Ruby Bowen was crowned in Lewis Park with Peggy McGregor, Ethel Handlin, Doris Blakely and Nora Butchers as maids of honor. Keen competition prevailed in the inter-school sports, which resulted in a win for Courtenay with Union Bay only six points behind and Cumberland three points behind the latter.

Twelve schools competed, with the following placings: Courtenay, 65 points; Union Bay, 59; Cumberland, 56; Comox, 49; Tsalum, 28; Alberni, 22; Minto, 17; Fanny Bay, 8; Roy-

Are Blood Impurities Tiring You?

If your blood contains impurities you cannot help feeling tired, "dragg", "pepless".

As a corrective of this condition, Feltz's Syrup Compound of Hypophosphites is very effective. Feltz's Syrup supplies the "Vital 3" (calcium, phosphorus and iron) and other minerals that help to enrich the blood and reduce the blood impurities. A few days after taking Feltz's Syrup you will feel less tired, more refreshed, and stronger—sure evidence that the "Vital 3" minerals are effectively improving your condition. Four druggists have Feltz's.

MERVILLE HAS HAPPY REUNION

Second Annual Gathering of Settlers Occasion for Interesting Recollections

MERVILLE, May 7.—On Friday night the second annual reunion of Merville settlers took place in the school house built by the settlers and opened by the Prince of Wales nearly sixteen years ago. The capable committee had prepared an excellent supper, which was greatly enjoyed, after those comrades who had crossed the Great Divide had been honored in standing silence.

Immediately following the repast, "The King" was accompanied with musical honors, with Mrs. Gladys King at the piano, and the singing of the National Anthem brought the assemblage from one of the subsequent speakers that there is "lots of pep" in the Merville men yet.

The chairman, James Mathers, then called upon Felix Thomas, who was glad to find that the reunion was apparently going to be an annual event. He felt there was reason for great gratitude because there had been no new rifts in the ranks of the settlers since last year. This was even more gratifying when it was remembered that many of the men had endured.

He felt very honored because he found himself sitting next to Mrs. Jones, who, with his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, had opened the building they were now in on the memorable occasion of the Prince's visit to Merville. Mr. Thomas then produced the original minute book of the settlement and read from the first page, which recorded the election of the original officers, elected at "Camp Nelson" as the place was then called, on May 17, 1919. The names included those of Rogers, Farley, Hunter, Ker, Erskine, Lucas and others. He then formally handed over the book and other interesting recollections to the chairman for safe keeping.

Ben Hughes told of his recollections of the early days at Merville and of his many trips there for the meetings that were so numerous in those days. He remembered the hot sunny day of the Prince's visit and spoke of the tough times the settlers have passed through since then. He eulogized the work of Comrade Catchpole, of Comox, a veteran of many wars, who is giving his service doing restoration work on the Sandwick Cairn.

R. E. Ault spoke of his first recollections of coming to the district and finding several of his former battalion comrades already at Merville. He wondered then how they could make a living amid the sea of tree stumps and was still wondering, W. S. Hunter was called upon, but immediately called upon Mrs. Jones. Mrs. Jones said she wished her audience might have all been Welsh, as she would then have found it easier to talk to them. She had very happy memories of the Merville children and of a Sunday school that grew rapidly, until circumstances compelled her to leave the settlement.

Wallace McPhee appreciated being counted amongst the Merville settlers. Although he had not settled under the Land Settlement Board, he always felt at home in Merville. The chairman then read nominal rolls of the original settlers. Out of the first eighty settlers, which comprised the first two blocks of forty in each, only eighteen now remain in Merville, although a number are still in the district.

During the evening musical and vocal numbers were given by James Mathers, Mrs. Alec Smith, Mr. and shrubs and windbreaks, amongst other subjects. Prior to the lecture, a short meeting will be held, when certain matters will come up for discussion, and reports and suggestions by the conveners of the two shows held this year.

It is earnestly requested that all those interested in the horticultural society will make an effort to attend this meeting, as various matters of interest will be laid before them for criticism and advice. It is proposed to hold a luncheon picnic at some future date during the Summer at one of the demonstration farms, particulars of which will be given on the evening of the meeting.

JUBILEE MEDALS GIVEN AT DUNCAN
Mayor and Reeve Make Presentation—Boy Scouts Form Guard of Honor

DUNCAN, May 7.—The King's Jubilee medals were presented at the Riding Club grounds before an audience of nearly 3,000 people by Mayor H. F. Prevost of Duncan and Reeve Tisdall of North Cowichan. The Mayor and Reeve both expressed the pleasure the presentation duties gave them and the honor to the district in having such worthy recipients.

The ceremony began with the singing of "O Canada," under the leadership of P. Parfitt, after which medals were presented to Miss W. G. Denny, district Guide commissioner; Miss Shand, matron of the King's Daughters' Hospital; Miss McDougall, of the Chemainus Hospital; Miss G. Homfray, of the Cowichan Heart Centre; C. H. Dickie, M.P.; Hugh Savage, M.P.P.; Colonel Dopping Hepenstall, district Scout commissioner, and Dr. Rogers, of the Chemainus Hospital. Mr. Dickie also received a medal for Mrs. Dickie, who was unable to be present.

Boy Scouts formed a guard of honor, and after the ceremony formed a circle around the commissioners to give them a special cheer. "God Save the King" and hearty cheers for Their Majesties concluded this part of the celebrations.

TWO GIRLS HURT IN MOTOR CRASH
COURTENAY, May 7.—Joe Taylor and Betty Smart, high school pupils, sustained severe injuries when the car driven by Mr. Hietze, of the high school staff, overturned whilst traveling at high rate of speed on the Island Highway north of Merville at the week-end. Both girls were pinned beneath the car, the former suffered a broken foot and severe cuts on the arm, and the latter badly bruised back.

Dr. P. L. Strath and H. A. Mooney proceeded to the scene of the accident as soon as possible, and the sufferers were sent to the hospital at Comox in the new Jubilee ambulance. But for the prompt action of a passing truck man, who rushed help from Merville and extricated the girls and got them to Mrs. Beaton, who helped to stop the bleeding, the result might have been most serious.

FINDS WIFE AFTER YEARS

Colorado Man Recognizes
Bride of 1900 Believed
To Have Perished

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., May 7 (AP).—A honeymoon which was believed for thirty-five years to have ended in tragedy in Galveston, Texas, is to be renewed in Colorado Springs.

Thirty-five years ago, Dr. J. W. Lytton, now of Colorado Springs, and his bride were married in Denver. They went to Los Angeles and thence to Galveston, where, after a brief stay, Dr. Lytton went to Buenos Aires, Argentina. His bride remained in Galveston.

Then came the tidal wave and hurricane of September 8, 1900, which overwhelmed the Gulf Coast. Dr. Lytton was informed that his bride had been killed.

Last week as he walked down a street in Cripple Creek, Dr. Lytton saw his bride of nearly two score years ago—and recognized her instantly. She did not recognize him, however, even when he stopped to speak to her.

SUDDENLY SWOONS

After Dr. Lytton recalled incidents which only he and she knew, Mrs. Lytton fainted, realizing that the man was her missing husband.

For six weeks Dr. and Mrs. Lytton had lived in neighboring houses in Cripple Creek without meeting each other.

Dr. Lytton, after leaving Argentina, went to Los Angeles, where he worked as a tramway conductor. Later he went to Seattle, coming to Colorado from that city.

Mrs. Lytton, who believed her husband had been killed, left Galveston and went to Tennessee. Several years ago she moved to Cripple Creek, where she has since resided.

hand to give their interpretation of the various acts.

Premier T. D. Pattullo will open the circus officially on Friday night.

That Body of Yours

(By James W. Barton, M.D.)

MIGRAINE—ONE-SIDED HEAD-ACHE—DUE TO CERTAIN FOODS

I write frequently about epilepsy because, though no cause has been found as yet, these attacks can now be controlled in many cases by cutting down on starch foods and liquids, and increasing the fat foods. When this is not sufficient, the use of phenobarbital daily controls the great majority of cases.

Similarly, while the cause of cancer is unknown, the removal of irritations of skin or mucous membranes, the use of radium and the X-ray, and also surgery will cure cancer if discovered early enough.

Another ailment that is very common but has defied research workers as to its cause is one-sided headache, or migraine.

The cause of migraine, in the opinion of many physicians, including myself, is that the body or mind gets very tired and certain processes of the body, including those of the liver, do not do their work properly; foods are not digested properly, and the blood carries substances which cause this painful head condition.

You can thus see that it is easily possible for good foods to cause the trouble. The patient may be eating the same foods regularly, but when over-tired certain of these foods, which cause no trouble when the patient is not tired, do cause trouble. If you will think of your friends or acquaintances who have migraine you will notice that they are great "workers" in some cases working hard all the time and in other cases taking "spurs" when they will work night and day for a certain period of time.

Dr. A. H. Rowe, Oakland California, in The Journal of the American Medical Association, says: "For some years past, food allergy—being sensitive to certain foods—has been stressed as a cause of migraine. In 150 private patients, one of whose chief complaints was headache, good results, by leaving out of their diets these foods to which they were sensitive, occurred in eighty-seven per cent of 100 patients who obeyed their instructions faithfully."

Now the foods that cause the trouble in one patient may not cause it in another, but by checking back on the foods eaten previous to the attack the offending food or foods will usually be discovered.

"Had any luck, mister?" asked the small boy. "Run away, lad," replied the angler who had fished for a long time without success. "No offence, sir," said the small boy. "I just wanted to tell you that my father keeps a fish shop just across the way."

Little Stories for Bedtime

Prickly Porky Doesn't Know What to Do

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

When Prickly Porky heard Sammy Jay screaming the news about the loss of his thousand little spears, he had known for the first time the real meaning of real fear. You see, without those little spears he felt helpless, very helpless indeed. He knew that if Buster Bear happened to be awake and should hear the news it was more than likely that Buster would take it into his head to try to get a dinner of fat porcupine. He hoped that Buster wasn't awake yet. He knew that Buster had been asleep all winter and he hoped that he was still asleep.

Up in the top of a tall hemlock tree, where he was trying to hide, Prickly Porky shivered as he thought of what might happen. He heard Sammy Jay's voice grow fainter and fainter in the distance. Then he couldn't hear it at all because Sammy was so far away. Somehow he felt better then. For a long time he sat there doing nothing but trying to think what it would be best to do until he should get a new supply of little spears. Thinking is hard work for Prickly Porky. His wife are very slow. Thinking is about the hardest work he can do.

By and by he heard Sammy Jay's voice again. He felt like covering up his ears so as not to hear. Of course he didn't do anything like that, but he did his best not to listen. Sammy's voice sounded louder because Sammy was drawing nearer. Suddenly Prickly Porky realized that somehow Sammy's voice sounded different from what it had. Then he listened. You know what Prickly Porky heard? It was the news that Buster Bear was awake.

"What shall I do? What shall I do?" whimpered Prickly Porky.

Just as soon as he really understood what Sammy Jay was screaming Prickly Porky began to have little chills. In spite of his thick, warm coat, little chills chased each other all over him until he was fairly shivering. He wasn't cold; he was afraid. You see, his very worst fears were realized. Buster Bear was awake and no doubt he had heard Sammy Jay screaming the news about the loss of those little spears. "What shall I do? What shall I do?" whimpered Prickly Porky. "Buster Bear surely will come looking for me and he surely will find me. Oh, dear, what shall I do?"

But there was no one to tell him what to do, and he was too frightened to do any real thinking, so he did nothing but cling to his perch in the top of the tall tree and shiver. "What shall I do? What shall I do?"

OIL MONOPOLY
SALES AGENCY

Manchukuo Gov't Appoints
Foreign Concerns Salesmen in Various Areas

The Manchukuo oil monopoly law went into effect on April 10, following promulgation of the law on November 14 last, according to The Asahi.

A sensation was created among the British and American oil companies interested in the Manchurian oil business when the law was promulgated, and since plans to counteract the measure had not been devised, but were not adopted.

Due to strenuous efforts by Manchukuo officials to explain the unavoidable circumstances that led the Government to adopt the law, the foreign interests have finally come to understand it according to the Japanese vernacular press. The Manchukuo Government, the papers state, has established a regional sales agency incidental to the monopoly and the foreign concerns have been appointed such agents.

SURVEY OIL LANDS
The Manchukuo Government has instructed the Manchukuo Oil Company to conduct a geological survey of oil land near Lake Dulai, in the neighborhood of Manchou, and in Jehol Province, but satisfactory results have not yet been reported.

Manchukuo's oil monopoly is a sales monopoly and not a manufacturing monopoly. Whether this system will work with satisfactory results or not is being watched with interest.

DEATH TOLL
INCREASING

Five Dead as Result of Crash—Others in Critical Condition

MACON, Mo., May 7 (AP).—The death toll in the crash of the fog-bound air liner near Atlanta, Mo., was increased to five today, with the death of Mrs. William Kaplan, of West Los Angeles.

Mrs. Kaplan, wife of William Kaplan, Hollywood film studio executive, died early this morning.

Two others were described as in a critical condition as a result of injuries suffered in the accident, which brought death to Senator Bronson Cutting, of New Mexico.

GREAT LOSS
"With Senator Cutting's untimely death, the American people suffered a great loss," said the Mayor, "Al-though he was a Republican, he was far to the left of President Roosevelt in matters of currency and credit administration."

He unhesitatingly believed it was the duty of the National Government to operate a national banking system that would have the power to and the responsibility of using the national currency and the service of both the people and the Government.

"He was a brilliant orator and a profound economic thinker, and was certainly one of the foremost of the outstanding statesmen of the younger generation."

Canada Due Here Early
Liner Docking This Morning—Ogden Point Piers Busy With Freighters

From Far-East ports, by way of Hawaii, the Canadian Pacific Steamship Company's Ss. Empress of Canada, Captain A. J. Hosken, R.N.R., commander, will arrive alongside Rithet Piers at 7 o'clock this morning with passengers, mails and cargo.

The liner will be here about two hours, and then will continue to Vancouver.

Coming in from the Orient the Danish East Asiatic motorship Ss. Empress of Denmark, Captain P. C. W. Franzen, docked at Ogden Point Piers early yesterday morning, and will load scrap iron and lumber for Japanese ports.

The Ss. Empress of Denmark is being the first Danish-powered ship to make a complete circuit of the globe. She was built in 1913.

Also arriving at Ogden Point yesterday morning was the India, of the Danish East Asiatic Company. The India came in to fill the Ss. Empress of Denmark's tanks with fuel oil and was busy during the day pumping the fuel into the big freighter's tanks.

Captain S. Krarup is in command of the India.

GRAIN SHIP AWAY
Completing the loading of over 8,000 tons of wheat, the freighter King City cleared from Ogden Point Piers last evening, bound for Colon, where she will get orders to proceed to the port of discharge. It is presumed it will be a United Kingdom port, but Captain Dan Davies will not know definitely until he reaches the Canal Zone.

Christian Jensen, general manager on the Pacific Coast for the Danish East Asiatic Company, with headquarters at San Francisco, came in the freighter India and will continue with the ship to New Westminster, from where he will proceed South by train.

By bus and ferry, the popular Wednesday Summer excursions of the Coast Lines and Gulf Islands Ferry Company will be inaugurated today. The bus will leave the depot at 9 a.m. and the Cy Peck Swartz Bay at 10 a.m. The boat will cruise through the Gulf Islands, calling at Ganges, Mayne and Galiano.

STEAMERS SOLD FOR SCRAPPING
Montauk and Montana, Built By Shipping Board, Bought in Italy

Two steamers, the Montauk and Montana, formerly owned by the Atlantic Transport Company of West Virginia, have been sold by the International Mercantile Marine Company to the Cantieri Metallurgici della Venezia e Giulia for scrapping. The vessels, which have recently been laid up at Hooker, are to be broken up shortly after their arrival there.

The two vessels were built by the United States Shipping Board in 1919 and were taken over by the Atlantic Transport Line shortly after the war. They were operated for a time in the New York-London service with the "Minnie" boats of the line. They had one deck fitted for the carriage of cattle. They were finally found too slow for operation with the "Minnie" boats and were chartered into the inter-coastal trade, being operated for a time by the American-Hawaiian and the Dollar Line.

For the past five or six years they have been inactive. They are vessels of 7,771 tons gross register. Another old vessel owned by the same built in 1917, also is expected to be sold soon.

PARIS, May 7 (AP).—The superliner Normandie, France's hope for queen of the seas, today started speed trials after satisfactory test of the steering and performance under adverse weather conditions.

DISTRESS CALL PROBABLY HOAX
Search of Area Off New Jersey Coast for Ship Is Futile

NEW YORK, May 7 (AP).—Rain-swept and fog-bound waters off the New Jersey coast—where the Morro Castle and Mohawk met disaster—were searched fruitlessly today by coast guard vessels answering the distress call of an unidentified ship.

As the search continued, coast guard headquarters suspected the distress call, picked up at New York and Bay Head, N.J., might have been a hoax. The faint pleas for help were intercepted by short-wave wireless at 40 degrees.

Authorities recalled that "rumor-mongers" along the Atlantic Coast "Rum Row" frequently resorted to short-wave distress calls to draw coast guard cutters out of position.

Aliden—W. Smith—twenty-five-year-old law student, intercepted the call in New York early today. He notified police. Meanwhile, the Bay Head coastguard station picked up the call.

New England Fish Company
Looks for Advance in Immediate Future

The New England Fish Company of Seattle—sees an advance in Alaska red salmon probable. Officials of the company state that the primary market is strong. Red talls are rock bottom at $1.75. It is probable that the price of reds will advance materially in the near future—the advance being actually warranted.

Several holders are unwilling to sell red talls at $1.75. It is believed reds will reach and hold at $1.85 to $2. There are no spot Alaska red halves at any price. Cohoes are finding new interest and this particularly applies to the ocean-caught variety, which is noted for its deep color and rich oil uniformity.

Tails in this variety are obtainable today at $1.35 to $1.40. Pinks are set at $1, regardless of quality. The bulk of the industry's unsold pinks are actually held at from $1.05 to $1.10 per dozen, with every prospect of packers realizing these prices. No spot pink halves are left, while chums are practically all gone. Most of those remaining are held at $1. At this time, the company states, it has 1,100 cases of hand-packed chum halves of excellent quality at 75 cents a dozen, and 72½ cents may be accepted for the entire quantity, immediate sale.

Columbia River salmon stocks have been declining steadily for a very few strictly fancy chinooks remain unsold at the present moment.

Assumption Captain Blames Blindness of Referees for Defeat

Gordie Aitchison Makes Innumerable Alibis for Setback of Team in Recent Canadian Hoop Final—Blames Everybody But Himself for Losing

By J. D.

Probably the most prejudiced story ever written about a Canadian championship basketball game came to light the other day in an Eastern paper, purporting to tell how Assumption College lost the third fixture of the recent Dominion play-downs to the Victoria Blue Ribbons. In that game the locals walked through to a 28-20 victory after a bruising battle, in which the invaders more than made up for rough tactics in an effort to move the Ribbons in some of the same manner as they did in the first game. The story written by Gordie "Scubby" Aitchison, captain of Assumption, asserts that the blindness of the two referees, Ralph Thomas and Alf Perry of Vancouver, robbed them of the decision. What an accusation to make by the skipper of the Easterners! True, the game was rough and the players might have been pulled up more for their tactics, but if they had, about four of Assumption players would have been warming the bench on personal.

TWO JESSE JAMES

Aitchison described the arbiters as two Jesse James' without horses, and goes on to say that they turned blind eyes to the marauding Ribbons, while checking up on the visitors unmercifully. He states the referees spent most of the game warning Assumption players about their alleged rough play, although they spent most of the evening in a reclining position on the floor. To go further, he says that the Ribbons crashed over the backs of Assumption with reckless abandon, as if knowing that they would be shown the utmost leniency by the referees. What ridiculous statements to make to a newspaper.

Here's some more journalism sent East by Aitchison.

"There is no harder thing to face than the realization that a good team is losing to an inferior one through no fault of its own. Man for man, in any combination of five men, Assumption is the better team, although that assertion is seemingly erroneous. Nothing can be done to bring to the supporters in Windsor the handicaps under which Assumption is laboring on this series. Every referee in the district is afraid of the temper of the Vic-

PERCY SMITH QUILTS SPURS

Manager of Tottenham Eleven Resigns—Several Other Changes Made

LONDON, May 7 (CP).—Among the English football clubs entering the 1935-36 season, opening late in August, with new managers, is Tottenham Hotspurs. Announcement of the resignation of Percy Smith to take effect at the end of the present season, proved a surprise to supporters of the famous White Hart Lane Club.

So ends another chapter in the chequered career of the Spurs. Mr. Smith's decision to seek fresh quarters comes after three years of service during which he piloted the team from the second to the first division of the league, and nearly won the championship from the Arsenal last season.

During the campaign just ended when the Spurs were gradually slipping to the bottom of the table, Mr. Smith wished the directors to purchase new players before the situation became desperate, but nothing was done until the London team was practically certain of relegation.

Applications for a new manager are being sought and one of the terms of the appointment will be that the selection man will not be required to perform any secretarial duties.

W. Hardinge, international footballer and Kent cricketer, is in charge of Tottenham's second team, and he may possibly be given the responsibility.

Queen's Park Rangers, third division club, has appointed William Birrell as manager in succession to "Mick" O'Brien, another official to resign recently. A Scot, Mr. Birrell has been manager of the Bournemouth team since 1930.

Directors of Hartlepool United, another third division side, announce that Jack Carr will not be re-engaged as manager of the team, owing to the financial condition of the club.

Horace Henshall, who joined Notts County from Aston Villa first as a player in 1912, has resigned the secretaryship of the club and will take a business appointment outside football. In recognition of his services Notts County directors will make him a life member and award him a benefit match.

BALL SEASON TO GET UNDER WAY TONIGHT

Eagles to Meet Navy at Athletic Park in Opening Fixture

EAGLES, present holders of the A. E. Humphries Cup, symbolic of the Victoria and District Commercial Baseball League championship, will open their 1935 pennant drive this evening at the Royal Athletic Park, when they stack up against the Navy in the opening game of the season. The fixture is billed to get under way at 6 o'clock.

The official opening ceremonies will see A. E. Humphries, donor of the championship trophy, parading to the mound to twirl the first ball, and Alderman John Worthington, chairman of the city parks board, swinging the willow. Joe Casey, general proxy of the Commercial League, will don the catcher's equipment and be on the receiving end.

LINE-UP INTACT

With their championship line-up practically intact, the birdmen feel confident of getting away to a good start at the expense of the sailor nine, who will be making their debut in the loop. However, the Navy squad is reported to be carrying plenty of good material, all making its first Victoria appearance, and fully confident of taking the opening fixture from last season's champions.

Jimmie Provindie, who twirled for the Sons of Canada senior club during the 1934 campaign, is expected to go to the hillcock for the Eagles. Behind the plate, as his battery mate, will be Henry Woodford, fiery catcher.

Preparing for Third Title Clash

JIMMY McLARNIN
New York's new Twentieth Century Club makes its bow May 28, with a battle for the welterweight championship between two of the best fighting men in the ring today: Jimmy McLarnin, of Vancouver, and Barney Ross, Chicago. The Canadian Irishman and the Jewish puncher had two great matches last year, Ross winning the first and Jimmy getting back his title in the second. Both boys have started training for so this time, the "rubber" match, should go to prove something. Both boys have started training for the clash, and therefore two finely conditioned fighters should step in the Manhattan ring in three weeks time.

of the Navy midweek soccer eleven will make his debut on the mound for the sailors. The "big right-hander" is reported to have a good variety of offerings and plenty of speed, all of which is expected to prove troublesome to the Eagles' batter. Harry Nelson, former junior star, will be at the receiving end.

With prospects of good weather, it is anticipated that a bumper crowd of ball fans will make its way to the enclosure to witness the official opening of the 1935 baseball season here.

McLARNIN IN EAST GETTING SET FOR BOUT

Welter Champion Arrives After Shaky Air Trip—Was Reported Dead

NEW YORK, May 7 (CP).—Jimmy McLarnin, despite his Irish heritage, isn't likely ever to be superstitious again.

The Vancouver beak-buster rode seat thirteen of plane No. 13, first section of the Sky Chief out of Albuquerque headed for Kansas City, points East, and his welterweight title defence against Barney Ross here May 28. There were thirteen passengers. But it was the second section, trailing them through the fog by only half an hour, that crashed in Missouri, killing Senator Bronson Cutting and four others.

McLarnin, arriving here by train today from Chicago to start training for his third match with the abdicated lightweight champion, still felt a bit shaky.

"We had a bad time ourselves with that fog," Jimmy explained. "We were all awake as we came near Kansas City, and we were joking about there being thirteen passengers. Someone said one of us ought to get out for the general good of the rest."

REPORTED DEAD

"Over the landing field at Kansas City our pilot found a hole in the fog and came down all right. I didn't know until we had flown on to Chicago that the second plane didn't have our luck, couldn't get down, and had to go on into the fog."

"On the train out of Chicago for New York I sat behind a man who was reading all about the accident, and one headline said, 'McLarnin reported dead in crash.'"

"The man was shaking his head, and he said to another man with him, 'Isn't that too bad? He was a nice boy, and a good fighter, too.'"

IN FINE SHAPE

McLarnin appeared in fine physical condition, weighing about 146 pounds. He will train in New York for a few days before choosing an open-air camp. As his custom, he refused to make any prediction as to the outcome of the rubber battle with Ross, who beat him once for the title, then lost to him on a fifteen-round decision last September.

"I saw Ross beat Henry Woods in a saw a few weeks ago," he said, "and he looks to be punching harder than ever."

Arsenal's Great Season Is Due to Better Treatment

LONDON, May 7 (CP).—Stamina of soccer players who stay on the field for ninety minutes—unless some unforeseen accident happens—is attributed in some measure to medicinal baths, violet ray treatment, electrical massage and other means used by a generation ago.

Trainer Tom Whittaker, of Arsenal, colorful First Division club, has divulged a few secrets of the dressing room.

A player who turns up for training with a cold is completely revitalized after a few hours, says Whittaker. He has made a study of electrical treatment, and is an expert at his job. Brine and medical baths are now substituted for leasidie baths. Players get at least one-brine bath a week. Another modern treatment, much used by the Gunners, is the foam-bath

Chalk Up Ninth Consecutive Triumph by Nosing Out McCarthy's Squad With Gomez on Mound—St. Louis Browns Beaten Again—Tigers Win—Rain Postpones Others

AMERICAN LEAGUE

CHICAGO, May 7 (AP).—The rampaging Chicago White Sox kept intact their perfect home record today when they turned back the New York Yankees, 4-3, in the belated opening of their series, to increase their newly-acquired lead in the American League to one and one-half games over the idle Cleveland Indians. The victory was the Sox's ninth successive triumph at home.

With Rip Radcliffe, freshman left fielder, leading the attack with a pair of consecutive doubles, the surprising Chicagoans jumped on Lefty Gomez for seven of their ten hits and all of their runs in the first two innings. The defeat was the Yankee southpaw ace's third of the season.

Ted Lyons, veteran right hander, who was touched for seven hits, kept the Yanks curbed with one run until Tony Lazzeri hit a homer with Lou Gehrig on base in the eighth. He survived the rally, however, for his second victory of the year.

Wrestlers Toss Chairs

Not content to commit mayhem under the guise of wrestling without the aid of lethal weapons, they're starting to tote the ringside "props" when they go into a clinch in Pacific Coast wrestling circles. For instance, in one corner of this Hollywood ring—the left—we have "Yukon Jake," fixin' to crack the luckless pate of "Lord" Landdowne with a chair. Landdowne, who claims to be a British nobleman, and enters the ring with a monocle, is being restrained by the referee after an exchange of "chair" amenities. Just playful little sideights to steam up the spectators, but the rousing commission insists that the bout was not on the up and up, and they are going to probe a bit.

The Number One Gunman—The lightning speed of old Western stories and the more recent movies are, as nothing compared to the speed of "Two Gun" Ed. McGivern when he whips his revolvers from their holsters. McGivern, whose home is Lewistown, Montana, has been a "gun toter" since childhood, and holds dozens of unofficial world's records for the machine gun-like speed of his revolvers. But the most remarkable of his ballistic accomplishments was when, on January 23, 1904, timed by an electric timer, he shot five holes in a playing card at a distance of twelve feet with two .38 calibre revolvers in two-fifths of a second. McGivern is an authority on ballistics, and many Western criminal cases involving firearms have been solved as a result of his tireless efforts.

204,000 Bulletless Shots—Quite a contrast to "Two Gun" Ed. McGivern, who has fired millions of bullets and seldom missed his mark, is John J. McHugh, of New York City, who fires about 6,500 revolver shots every year, and estimates he has fired at least 204,000 shots in thirty-two years, yet he has never fired a real cartridge. McHugh has been starter for running and track events since 1903 all over the United States, and every national A.A.U. annual track meet for many years has found him as the official starter. His speed on the trigger is so highly regarded that an important track meet is hardly considered as such unless he is at the starting line.

A "BATTLE ROYAL"

In its proper figurative usage, any good fight may be a battle royal. The expression may seem self-explanatory, but it has quite a history. Sports fans understand the term to describe a free fight in which as many as half a dozen or even more contestants may participate, and which is now relegated to buffoonery. Once, however, it was recognized, in an illegitimate way, as a standard athletic event in which usually Negroes would engage.

The term is a carry-over from the sport of cock-fighting. Here, several game-cocks "would" attack one another furiously. Without let or hindrance, the encounter would continue until only one bird would be left standing—king of them all—victor in what had truly been a battle royal.

He was one of those people who always imagine they are ill. "And how are you today, John?" asked a friend. "I'm not at all myself," grumbled John. "Congratulations," said his friend. "It's probably a change for the better."

RADIO BODY IS VERBAL TARGET

Debate Waxes Warm and Remarks Unprintable—Extend Congratulations

Extending of congratulations to the Blue Ribbons basketball team and also to the Canadian Radio Commission for its fine Jubilee programme precipitated a hectic argument at yesterday's meeting of the council, in which some of the language used will not bear repeating.

Incidentally, that portion of the remarks which is unprintable, was directed toward the radio commission.

Alderman Andrew McGavin wanted to know why the council should congratulate the commission upon the fine programme. "What do they think we pay our $2-for. We couldn't even get the basketball championship broadcast over the national network. If some big shot wants to get on the air to give a lot of hot air, it's alright, but they apparently don't think a Canadian basketball championship is important enough for his listeners."

Mayor David Leeming said he had interviewed two young men in Victoria, who were prepared to erect a radio station that would be more powerful than KOMO. This remark seemed to end the debate, and congratulations were voted both to the basketball team and the radio commission. "Not that they deserve it," Alderman McGavin chirped in, as a parting shot.

SEEKS AID FOR SHORE SHELTER

Plans by Victoria Kiwanis Club for Such Work Explained at Meeting Yesterday

Before the members of the Kiwanis Club at their luncheon meeting in the Empress Hotel yesterday, A. S. Denny outlined the main features of the proposed Kiwanis shelter which will be erected on the waterfront near the end of Cook Street. The cost of the structure is placed at about $355 and over $200 has already been collected for it by Mr. Denny and A. C. Buckley.

It was pointed out by Mr. Denny that the work was not in any way to interfere with the tourist funds which were to be collected. No money would be accepted that would be given to that cause.

The speaker had a plan of the structure which he showed would be built in considerable part of glass. It would be along the plans of such shelters provided in the Old Country. It would be placed so as to command excellent sea views and would be so located that advantage could be taken to evade any wind that was blowing, no matter from what direction.

The object was to assure local residents and visitors of being comfortably protected from any wind while enjoying either in Summer or Winter the splendid views.

RESCUED FROM RAFT ON ROCKS

Three Youths None the Worse for Adventure in Montana River

KALISPELL, Mont., May 7 (AP).—Marooned for hours as they clung precariously to a raft on rocks in the swirling waters of the Flathead River, three youths "were rescued early today little the worse for wear."

The trio, Howard Poles, of Detroit; Paul Ferguson, of N.D., and Archie McDonald, of London, an expert riverman, were rescued by a raft trip down the fast-flowing mountain stream.

Near the mouth of the North fork the craft caught on protruding rocks as it neared the rapids.

RANCHERS HEAR CRIES

At 11 o'clock last night cries of the stranded adventurers attracted ranchers living nearby and the alarm was relayed to Glacier Park ranger headquarters.

Dr. Rod, an expert riverman, maneuvered a boat out to the raft and disengaged it.

Fales floated down river with the craft and finally swam to land; McDonald clung to a log and was washed ashore. Ferguson, however, did not get away until 8 o'clock this morning, when Houston was able to swing his boat close enough to the rock for the refugee to reach it.

SEES NEED FOR MORE MEMBERS

W. A. Kennedy, Dominion
President of Life Underwriters, Gives Address

Declaring the insurance business to be the greatest in the world, W. A. Kennedy, Winnipeg, Dominion president of the Life Underwriters' Association of Canada, urged members of the Victoria and Island Life Underwriters' Association at luncheon in Speedie's Cafe yesterday, to concentrate their efforts on increasing membership in the organization.

The Dominion president considered the association should embrace more than 50 per cent of the licensed insurance salesmen in Canada, so it could present a united voice to the Governments when necessary. At present the membership totals 3,000.

Work of the Life Underwriters' Association since its formation twenty-eight years ago was briefly reviewed by Mr. Kennedy. He told of the elimination of many malpractices in the insurance business and the raising of its standards. Close co-operation now exists between the association, head offices of the various companies and the men in the field, he said.

TO PRUNE SYSTEM

The speaker added that by common agreement among all companies, insurance agents unable to sell $20,000 worth of business in a city of 15,000 population in their first year, and $30,000 in their second would receive special attention. Mr. Kennedy then intimated that some of these salesmen would be allowed to leave their respective companies in which they were failing to make a living, to enter business for which they were better fitted.

Part-time salesmen are losing favor with many of the companies in Canada, Mr. Kennedy continued. In Winnipeg seventy-five part-time men will be dropped as it is thought they cannot do the work efficiently and are a hindrance to full-time agents.

RECOUNTS STORIES

Mr. Kennedy told of the set up of the directors of the Life Underwriters' Association and paid honor to organization officers.

By brief but graphic stories taken from the lives of insurance salesmen, the Dominion president showed how psychology could be applied to everyday selling.

The entire address was enthusiastically received and many members pressed forward at its conclusion to speak to Mr. Kennedy on various phases of it.

Fred Lewin presented a brief report on the preparations made by a special committee for Life Insurance Week from May 13 to 18.

What Today Means

"TAURUS"

If May 8 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 11:15 a.m. to 1:15 p.m., from 3:15 to 5:15 p.m., and from 7:15 to 9:15 p.m. The danger periods are from 8:15 to 10:15 a.m., from 1:15 to 3:15 p.m., and from 9:15 to 11:15 p.m.

There is danger on this date in depending too much on others to comply with your wishes or orders. Make it a point to keep in close contact, so as to see your wishes are carried out in a satisfactory manner. It is likely to be good judgment, in matters of importance, to have personal interviews whenever it is possible instead of telephone conversations or written communications. In your social contacts on this day, it might be best to confine your conversation to impersonal subjects, as there is very little likelihood that those you meet in a neighborhood or festive way will be interested in your private personal affairs. There is a possibility that strong likes, as well as dislikes, will be formed on this date, so it may behoove you to be diplomatic, as well as careful, should you meet strangers or casual acquaintances. Married and engaged couples, as well as those seeking someone to share marriage bliss, will be wise to guard against any outside influences to cause them to question any motive or act.

If a woman, and May 8 is your birthday, you probably respond favorably to any form of physical exercise which should be taken daily if you feel the need of it. Your perseverance rarely permits you to acknowledge defeat, with the result that you should be able to accomplish whatever you make up your mind to do. You probably are very fond of all forms of social activities, and it will be to your advantage to participate in them whenever it is possible. Love will have a great deal to offer you, so be careful not to spurn it. Do not permit your worldly contacts to cause you to become callous or suspicious, for unhappiness may result, for un- culture, dancing, secretarial or office work are agencies through which you are likely to obtain excellent results as a wage earner.

The child born on May 8 when it reaches its teens, may be far more amenable to kindly and affectionate methods of discipline than to harsh ones. So avoid harshness.

If a man, and May 8 is your natal day, a cheerful disposition is needful if you seek public recognition of your merits. You have the ability to control your emotions, and it will pay you well to do so. Banking, medicine, music, painting, as well as writing, are some of the vocations through which you might find the best means for self-expression.

MORE SILK STOCKINGS
LEICESTER, England (CP).—A local firm of stocking manufacturers is to install extra machinery to manufacture an additional 50,000 pairs of silk stockings weekly. The output will then be 300,000 pairs a week.
